Sekiro: Shadows Die Twice Becomes First Xbox Game to Top 20M U.S. Sales Sekiro: Shadows Die Twice Becomes First Xbox Game to Top 20M U.S. Sales With the release of Sekiro: Shadows Die Twice, XSEED Games has now sold two of the top-20 bestselling games on PlayStation 4 during the past year. The release of Sekiro: Shadows Die Twice has quickly become one of the most hotly-anticipated games of this console generation. And here we are today, over a month later, with the release of the game, and XSEED Games just announced that the game has officially become the first Xbox One X exclusive title to surpass $20 million in North America sales. Sekiro: Shadows Die Twice quickly became the fastest-selling game to $20 million, in no time at all, achieving this feat in just over a week. According to data from community board ResetEra.com, the game has already amassed almost $30 million in sales. Sekiro: Shadows Die Twice was originally announced for PlayStation 4 and Xbox One in 2018. The game was later announced to be coming to the PC on November 13, 2019 for the standard version of the game. And as you can see by the data mentioned above, the game has in fact been downloaded by almost 28 million people during its current lifetime on Steam. Well, the rest of the world will have to wait for the game to hit their shores before they can see the game in their own hands. But if you are a PlayStation 4 or Xbox One owner, you can play the game right now, if you own it, on your console. The game is available to play for free with your PlayStation Plus subscription. For those who want to try it out, here is the official PlayStation 4 Store listing for Sekiro: Shadows Die Twice. Let us know what you think about the game in the comments section below.
